December Character Education Sharing & Patience

Your child will learn through character education books, character critters, teacher role modeling, and positive reinforcement.

The holidays are a wonderful time to teach children to share. Take advantage of that at home!

As part of the learning process, your child will:

* Be encouraged to share things they have multiples of, such as crayons and blocks.

- * Be encouraged to take turns by playing games.
- * Be encouraged to wait for their turn patiently.
- * Be assigned classroom duties so each child has a turn. For example, each day, a different line leader will be chosen.
- * Learn that sharing is very important to building good play behaviors.
- * Learn that sharing is a way to make friends and be liked by others.
- * Learn that when we give to others who have a need, we help someone else.
